Prince Of Peace Communications Observations Reminders and News

PRINCE of PEACE LUTHERAN COLLEGE

From the Head of College

Core Business

At Prince of Peace we encourage all of our students to develop their God-given talents in all areas of life so that they may shape and enrich their world. It is our calling as a college to give students the opportunity to discover and then develop their own talents and as part of that process, we must never lose sight of the fact that education is our core business. It is our mission to provide an environment that nurtures our students into achieving individual excellence.

In line with our mission as a college, I am extremely proud of our NAPLAN aged students who did remarkably well with their results. It is testament to the hard work the students have been giving their studies with the support of their teachers. As a non-selective Christian college, it is an exceptional result to be tracking above the state average in every category at every year level. More importantly when analysing the data, it is pleasing to see many students achieving individual excellence in line with their God-given potential and for Prince of Peace that is of equal celebration.

It is always good to be cautious when analysing NAPLAN results, as there are flaws in the process of judging years' worth of education in one test, however it does allow us to monitor individual progress and help the college continue to shape its education programme. Please find included a snapshot analysis of the college's NAPLAN results within this edition of POPCORN.

Spiritual Reflection

During Junior Campus Chapel on Friday, Mrs Gibson's class presented an excellent thought provoking devotion based upon Isaiah 49:16 "See, I have engraved you on the palms of my hands; your walls are ever before me". The message that I received from this devotion was that we are always in God's thoughts and he never forgets us as just like an engraving or tattoo that support is there forever. He has a constant and sacred regard for his people, and amidst all the disasters and trials, he still remembers us.

When in education or any other walk of life, there will be trials and there will be success but be sure in the knowledge that God has engraved you on the palm of his hand.

In your service

Mr Philip Hulland Head of College

2015 Prince of Peace National Minimum Standard Analysis

Explanation: This data is showing each year levels mean average percentage of students that are achieving at or above the National Minimum Standard across the five disciplines of the NAPLAN tests.

Snapshot Analysis: It is pleasing to see that Prince of Peace is trending above the State and National Average in all year levels. This is a significant achievement as we maintain our core value of being a non-selective Christian college with an inclusive enrolment policy working towards our mission of nurturing students to achieve individual excellence.

Compassion

This week on the Junior Campus we are focussing on the Value of Compassion. Some words that we can use to help unpack this value with our children are mercy, sympathy, empathy, concern, kindness, consideration, gentleness and care.

To have compassion is to be loving and to attend to another person's innermost needs. It is about exercising the ability to reach out, to walk in another's shoes, to be open and responsive to the needs and concerns of others and to be active in caring for others.

In Romans 12:9-13 (NIV) we hear our Saviour's call to arms for all those who believe in him. He says:

[9] Love must be sincere. Hate what is evil; cling to what is good. [10] Be devoted to one another in love. Honour one another above yourselves. [11] Never be lacking in enthusiasm (zeal), but keep your spiritual fervor, serving the Lord. [12] Be joyful in hope, patient in affliction, faithful in prayer. [13] Share with the Lord's people who are in need. Practice hospitality.

In Lutheran Education we have what are known as CODE OF ETHICS statements. This is what we state about compassion and the role we have to play in our world.

This week in your homes I encourage you to consider Compassion, to discuss how we can live this out in our families and communities. Jesus demonstrated his compassion for us in his coming to live among us. How can we show compassion to each other? This week we congratulate all of those students who received the Junior Campus Values Award for Demonstrating Compassion.

Katrina Valencia Head of Campus P-6

Lessons that stick

Research over the past decade have drilled deeper and deeper into the art of teaching to try to pinpoint what elements make that lesson stick. These evidence based approaches inform the Teaching and Learning Framework at our college. A recent article I read indicated three points for an effective lesson;

1. Be clear about what we want our students to be able to do
2. Tell them what they need to know and show them how to do it
3. Give your students practise in what they have learnt

It is affirming to see the approaches we have adopted this year; setting learning intentions at the beginning of a lesson, establishing success criteria from clear examples that show what is expected and valuing practise and feedback are and continue to be tried and proven teaching methods.

Our teaching body continues to reflect on what 'Responsive Teaching' and 'High Expectations' mean for the everyday lesson; this week alone our teachers have discussed what this looks like in a spelling, writing and numeracy lesson.

If you'd like to know more about the framework we use and how it informs the delivery of programs at our school you can view this on our website: Teaching and Learning Framework

DARE Speech Pathology – Information Night

In an effort to advocate for our students with learning differences, including language and literacy difficulties, DARE will be holding a free information evening for parents, teachers and learning support staff. This will be on Thursday 20th August 6.30pm – 8.00pm at Toowong Bowls Club. See attached for more information.

Restorative Practices Training for staff

This week some of our staff and teachers from other Lutheran schools will be attending a 3-Day workshop on Restorative Practices with internationally renowned Margaret Thorsborne.

Margaret Thorsborne, is the Managing Director of Margaret Thorsborne & Associates & Transformative Justice Australia (Qld). She is committed to improving the way people relate to each other in their workplaces & other communities by providing processes that allow often deeply negative feelings to be gradually transformed into cooperation. As relationships are restored, job satisfaction, morale & productivity improve.

Margaret has a long history with us at POP and has become a trusted friend and supporter of our College. Positive Relationships are imperative for a living, learning and growing at POP. This in turn, fuels our Honouring Relationships policy that drives all that we do. RP is more than a different way of dealing with behaviour it is the impetus for a culture that relies on a mindset that intentionally seeks to strengthen, restore and foster healthy connections for learning. This allows greater opportunities for our students to become truly reflective, collaborative, willing to take risks, better communicators and successful life-long learners.

The RP philosophy compliments the Lutheran ethos extremely well as it requires love, justice, compassion, forgiveness, service, humility, courage, hope, quality and appreciation for it to work to its potential. These are the pillars of Christian living and therefore why we do what we do here at PoP.

40Hr Famine

Last weekend a number of our students gave up something to help raise money for a great cause. The goal was $500, but a small group of students managed to raise over $3000 by giving up food, technology, or furniture. The 40 Hour Famine raises money to help children, their families and communities in desperate need. The funds support World Vision's work tackling the causes of poverty, and by doing the 40 Hour Famine you are part of a movement of Australians who are willing to take action against hunger! You can support the Prince of Peace 40hr Famine team by going to the following link https://40hf2015.everydayhero.com/au/prince-of-peace-lutheran-college

This year 40hr Famine celebrates 40 years. As part of that they presented certificates to schools for their support. Recently Prince of Peace received a certificate that acknowledged that we have raised over $31 000. That is a significant achievement for the size of our student population.

To further boost our tally, Friday will see a free dress day by donation. This is a chance for all members of our community to support this initiative. Congratulations to all those students who gave up something they enjoyed to support this worthwhile cause. We are very proud of you and your willingness to demonstrate excellence through honour.

MUSIC NOTES

JUNIOR CAMPUS

Choral Workshop
On Monday the Senior Choir students travelled to Living Faith Lutheran Primary School to attend a workshop with Dr. Chris Shepard. Dr. Shepard is a Choral Specialist who travelled from New York to spend the day with three Lutheran schools. The children learned four songs, some in two part harmony and then presented them at a concert for parents and friends. What a fantastic opportunity this was for everyone involved. A day developing partnerships between the schools and a chance to learn from an expert in his field. Dr. Shepard was very complimentary of our choir and encouraged us to continue to seek excellence in our music making.

Instrumental lessons
There are a small number of vacancies on all instruments. There are also a number of school instruments available for hire at very reduced rates. Please email me to obtain details.

Please remember it is a courtesy to contact your child's tutor if your child is away from school for any reason.

WHOLE COLLEGE

DEVOTION

Are you being served?

Each of you should look not only to your own interests, but also to the interests of others Philippians 2:4

There are some among us who have been given a larger portion of the ability to serve others than the rest of us. You know the kind of people I mean. The ones who cheerily show up to every working bee, bake for every cake sale, are the first to offer to help with the dishes and show up on moving day with not only a trailer and willing hands, but also a thermos and sandwiches. They are often the unsung heroes of the family or of the community. They quietly and humbly go about helping without a great deal of fanfare.

And then there are the rest of us; the Servant wanna-bes who view the naturally servant-hearted with awe and admiration and wish we could be more like them. And it was while pondering this that I stumbled upon Romans chapter 12 and was reminded that members of a community each have different roles to play. Every one of us has the ability to serve within a community, but each of us also has a unique set of gifts, talents and experience. Not everyone makes the prettiest cupcakes. Not everyone has a strong back for physical labour. The important thing is to recognise where your particular strengths lie and to cultivate an awareness of how you can use those things to enhance the lives of other people. The important thing lies in the act of giving, not in the gift itself.
